ABOUT FEEDING SAN DIEGO

Feeding San Diego is a non-profit organization on a mission to connect every person facing hunger with nutritious meals by maximizing food rescue. Established in 2007, Feeding San Diego rescues surplus food from local and national food donors before it goes to waste and gets it to people facing hunger in San Diego County. It is the only Feeding America partner food bank in the region. Each year, the hunger-relief organization provides more than 35.4 million meals to children, families, seniors, college students, military families, and veterans in partnership with a network of nearly 350 local charities, schools, colleges, faith communities, healthcare providers, and meal sites. It operates nine distinct programs countywide that support people facing hunger with food assistance or resources. 76 percent of the food distributed by Feeding San Diego is rescued, allowing high-quality food to be redirected instead of going to waste. By diverting more than 31 million pounds of food from the landfill, Feeding San Diego protects people and the planet. Every $1 donated helps provide two meals to people facing hunger.

OUR HISTORY

Feeding San Diego's first food distribution was held on October 9, 2007, in the parking lot of the San Diego Rescue Mission. Several weeks later, San Diego County experienced disastrous firestorms that displaced hundreds of thousands of people. Within the first week of the fires starting, with only two employees, Feeding San Diego secured 515,000 pounds of emergency supplies, including food, water, and other grocery items, that were distributed to evacuees, firefighters and volunteers.

In the early stages of our organization's development, and during those firestorms, local organizations including the American Red Cross, The Salvation Army, Father Joe's Villages, Catholic Charities, The Rock Church, San Diego Rescue Mission, Homeland Security, FEMA, City of San Diego, County of San Diego all supported our efforts. We are extremely thankful for these partnerships, many of which are still in place today.

Feeding San Diego is a female founded organization. Founder Gwendolyn Sontheim remains the board chair today. You can see a list of our board members here.

Our facility is located in Sorrento Valley and houses our staff offices, the volunteer center, and distribution center. On average, over two million pounds of food moves through this location every month. Over 22,000 volunteers come to our volunteer center annually to help sort, glean, and pack the food that goes out to our agency partners. This incredible effort is what makes our mission possible.

Feeding San Diego considers itself a hunger-relief organization, not a food bank. That is because not all of the food we distribute to the community comes through this one central location. We prioritize keeping food fresh in the local area where it's rescued.

FEEDING AMERICA PARTNERSHIP

Feeding San Diego is a partner food bank of Feeding America.

The Feeding America network is a nationwide network of food banks, food pantries, and meal programs that work together to provide food to people facing hunger in the United States. As the nation's largest domestic hunger relief organization in the United States, Feeding America is comprised of 200 partner food banks across the country. It's important to note that Feeding San Diego operates as an independent nonprofit organization. Feeding America provides our organization with access to food, funds, and capacity building so that together we can serve more of our neighbors facing hunger across the United States.

HOW WE WORK

Feeding San Diego provides food and resources to a network of 370 community distribution partners throughout San Diego County. We rescue high-quality, nutritious, surplus food from a wide variety of food donors, such as farms and grocery stores. Examples of our food donors include:

- ❑ Grocery stores (including but not limited to: Albertson's, Barons, Food4Less, Ralph's, Smart & Final, Sprouts, Trader Joe's, Whole Foods)
- ❑ Retailers (including but not limited to: Costco, Starbucks, Target, Walmart)
- ❑ Manufacturers
- ❑ Wholesalers
- ❑ Growers
- ❑ Farmers

We rescue their surplus food, which is most often food that is nearing the end of its shelf life, is a small lot, has damaged packaging, or is not retail ready. Sometimes there's nothing at all "wrong" with the food, the seller was simply unable to find a market for the product.

Traditional food banks bring all food to a central warehouse before distributing it. We do things a little differently. Our flexible decentralized model allows us to choose whether to keep food local or bring it to our distribution center. If it's more efficient for a local partner to rescue the food directly, we coordinate pick up from the food donor by a community partner.

INDUSTRY PARTNERS

Our food industry partners save money while doing good for the community and can enjoy financial incentives as well. As we identify food donations, we immediately redirect them to our partners that are a part of the following organization types:

- ☐ College campuses
- ☐ Senior centers
- ☐ Faith communities
- ☐ Social service agencies
- ☐ Community groups
- ☐ Military organizations
- ☐ Healthcare agencies

All Feeding San Diego partners are directly connected to neighbors in need. Our partners distribute the food in a way that best fits their needs to people right in their own communities.

DIRECT SERVICES

Feeding San Diego's direct services department operates its own food distributions. These food distributions include Mobile Pantries, Produce Pantries, School Pantries, and the Feeding San Diego marketplace. These direct distributions allow our team to provide targeted hunger-relief to populations affected by hunger, including low-income students enrolled in schools in San Diego County school districts and people living in rural food deserts.

CALFRESH

CalFresh is a federally funded nutrition assistance program designed to help families and low-income individuals purchase healthy food. Feeding San Diego's CalFresh team conducts outreach to the community to increase awareness of the program and provides support to community members throughout the application process.

If you'd like our CalFresh outreach team to come to your site to help enroll the people you serve, please contact:

Victoria Medina, CalFresh Manager
vmedina@feedingsandiego.org, 858.531.8885

BENEFITS OF PARTNERING WITH FEEDING SAN DIEGO

In addition to receiving access to fresh produce and dry goods from our warehouse, partners have access to food donor donations from across San Diego County, food and non-food, on a weekly basis (example of donors include Costco, Target, Sprouts, Trader Joe's, and many more). Partners can also receive funding through Feeding San Diego grants and education from trainings that we offer.

Partners receive support not only from our partnerships team, but also from other Feeding San Diego departments, including our School Meal Programs, CalFresh teams and Marketing & Communications teams. There is also opportunity to network with other Feeding San Diego partners for capacity building, as well as a credibility that comes with being associated with the Feeding San Diego network.

The Butterfly Effect

Contributions of all sizes spiral outward, creating massive and complex changes in the community around us. And we each have a role to play. When we unite towards a common goal, we are capable of extraordinary things.

We are grateful for your partnership. Together, we can make a difference in the lives of the nearly 300,000 individuals, including almost 80,000 children, that are at risk of experiencing food insecurity in San Diego County. These numbers come from Feeding America's Map the Meal Gap study that is based off 2021 data. The study is conducted annually.

We can't do this alone. Together we can help end hunger through food rescue in our communities.

AGENCY PARTNERSHIP

PARTNERSHIP APPLICATION PROCESS & REQUIREMENTS:

As a member of Feeding America and the national network of food banks, Feeding San Diego follows a strict set of rules and governing procedures that ensure we distribute food safely and in accordance with state, IRS, and federal law. In turn, we expect each of our Partner agencies to follow the policies and procedures outlined in this handbook and in your agency agreement.

In order to meet basic qualifications for partnership, in addition to what is outlined in the agreement, an agency must follow the below guidelines:

ACCEPTABLE

- ☐ Incorporated for the purpose of serving the ill, needy, or infants
- ☐ Distribute donated product free of charge for use by the ill, needy, or infants limited to distribution and use in San Diego County only
- ☐ Keep records which accurately reflect the total amount (pounds) of product received through Feeding San Diego (including product picked up through Feeding San Diego-enabled programs) and all monitoring paperwork such as temperature logs for at least one year
- ☐ Have and follow a written policy that outlines that volunteers or staff must meet the same eligibility requirements and follow the same process as other clients
- ☐ Outline the Agency's procedure for determining that the final recipient of the product is ill, needy, or infant such as using self-declaration of need or other intake processes. However, the Agency does not need to keep specific records of individual amounts distributed to specific recipients nor the names or addresses of those recipients. We only ask that you keep household sizes and report that information to Feeding San Diego on a monthly basis
- ☐ Ensure that all donated product from all sources conform to any applicable provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (as amended), and any regulations that follow
- ☐ Operate from a commercial location (not a home), unless the agency is a transitional living facility, group home, shelter, or a similarly permitted operation
- ☐ Fiscal sponsorship is allowed for up to 1 year from the initial date of partnership. After 1 year, the partner will be required to be operating under their own 501(c)(3) status. Failure to meet this requirement may result in dissolving the partnership

- ☐ Agree to have the partner's distribution listed on our Find Food Map if it is open to the general public to attend
- ☐ Pay handling and delivery fees as applicable for Agency Express by the deadlines given
- ☐ Communicate with you assigned Partnership Coordinator through email and phone throughout your partnership with us and comply with annual monitoring visits

An agency may be deemed not a qualified Partner for Feeding San Diego if the following applies:

UNACCEPTABLE

- ☐ Be a private foundation, even if it has an exemption under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code
- ☐ Be incorporated for a purpose unrelated to serving the ill, needy, or infants (such as the publication of a non-profit periodical providing information to members)
- ☐ Sell or use donated product in exchange for money, other property, or services
- ☐ Be a foster parent association
- ☐ Accept donations or church offerings at the point of distribution and/or in exchange for product
- ☐ Require compulsory prayer and/or religious services at the point of distribution and/or in exchange for product (prayer and/or religious services must be optional to the public)
- ☐ Operate from a private residence

AGENCY CAPACITY BUILDING

Through close communication and regular evaluation, Feeding San Diego works to build the capacity of its network. The areas of focus are food rescue, CalFresh outreach, training, volunteer programs, and the safe and effective distribution of nutritious and perishable foods.

In addition to providing partners with access to over 35.4 million meals annually, Feeding San Diego provides numerous opportunities for its agencies to grow capacity.

THESE OPPORTUNITIES INCLUDE:

- ☐ Volunteer recruitment training

Alongside the required monitoring visit and training, we ask agencies to reassess our partnership to ensure continued mission alignment as well as update paperwork and connect on opportunities for support. Paperwork is required to be submitted prior to the onsite visit. If the paperwork is not sent within 30 days of the set monitoring visit, Partners will be placed on a compliance hold until paperwork is submitted.

ABBREVIATED PAPERWORK FROM YOUR AGENCY INCLUDES:

6. Temperature logs if you are using cold storage units for Feeding San Diego food
7. San Diego 2-1-1 listing of your organization's food distribution

*Food handler's card expires after two years if obtained through Feeding San Diego training. It is required that at least one person present at every distribution has a valid food handlers card to supervise, however the best practice is at least two people.

BEFORE A SITE VISIT FEEDING SAN DIEGO WILL:

- ☐ Agencies will have 30 days to submit confirmation of corrective action if an issue is found at the site visit and identified by the Partnership Coordinator. If there is no corrective action taken in a timely manner by the agency partner, a product hold from our distribution center and/or food rescue stores will be considered based on the severity of the issue

PARTNER CONVENING

Feeding San Diego will host an in-person Annual Agency Summit as an opportunity to bring all partners together to discuss ideas, share best practices, create connections, and learn from one another.

This will be a required attendance for at least one representative from your agency to attend as part of continuing partnership together. More communication about the ideas, framework and learning sessions will come from the programs team closer to the date. If your organization is unable to find someone to attend, you will be required to communicate that to your partnership coordinator prior to the event as important information will be given out during these events.

CHANGES IN AGENCY STATUS

INTERNAL AGENCY CHANGES

Partner agencies must notify Feeding San Diego of changes in distribution times or days, personnel, contact information, location, programming, etc. by completing a Change of Information form (on Partner Portal or ask your Coordinator) within 7-10 business days of changes. Forms may be submitted by email, or text to your partnerships coordinator.

INACTIVE AGENCIES

If an agency has not procured food through Feeding San Diego for six months (Food Rescue, Mobile Marketplace and/or Distribution Center), the agency will be considered inactive and will be emailed a letter of separation. If there is no response from the partner within 30 days, the separation will be confirmed. After the separation is complete, if the agency wishes to re-apply for partnership, they must complete the linked form: New Partner Application. The application process includes a new application, site visit, orientation and training, and up-to-date required paperwork. A renewed partnership is not guaranteed and will be looked at on a case-by-case basis.

AGENCY HOLDS

An agency hold can be initiated due to various circumstances. It could be at the request of the partner due to changing needs. Additionally, an agency may be put on hold due to a compliance issue or outstanding accounting balances which would be communicated to the partner prior to the hold. Partner agencies are expected to comply with Feeding San Diego standards as outlined in the Agency Agreement and this handbook. A hold for any reason will affect an agency's ability to receive food from the Distribution Center, Mobile Marketplace and/or pick up from Food Rescue stores.

A PARTNER CAN BE PLACED ON HOLD IF:

- ☐ Account balances are not paid within 60 days of invoice date
- ☐ Requested compliancy paperwork is not submitted within 30 days of monitoring visit date
- ☐ Food safety corrections are not corrected and documented within 30 days of monitoring visit date
- ☐ Three or more consecutive months of late or missed receipting in Meal Connect for the Food Rescue program
- ☐ Agency location of operation no longer meets the location requirements for acceptable partnership
- ☐ Agency request for extended closure for reasons such as location change, change in operations, or a change in staffing
- ☐ Continued or frequent complaints are received by Feeding San Diego which will warrant a review of continued partnership

If you have any questions about this process, please contact your partnerships coordinator.

CONDITIONS FOR SEPARATION

Feeding San Diego strives to maintain professional and trusting relationships with all Partners in hunger relief. Feeding San Diego also strives to ensure that all San Diegans facing hunger have access to food, while maintaining dignity and food safety as the highest priorities. Any concerns regarding this relationship should be addressed to the Neighborhood Partnerships Manager.

In the unlikely event of a violation against any of the policies and procedures in this handbook, Feeding San Diego maintains the right to immediately suspend food distribution to the agency in violation. The agency will be notified via email of any suspension in a timely manner along with the reason for suspension.

If the agency is unsatisfied with the decision, the agency may file a grievance (see Grievance Policy and Procedure) to the Neighborhood Partnerships Manager to discuss the future of the partnership.

If an agency was separated for agreement violations, they may re-apply no sooner than one year after the date of separation, providing it can show improvements around the issue that caused the separation. The process will include filling out a new application. If the application is approved, a site visit will be conducted, and agency representatives must attend orientation(s). A renewed partnership is not guaranteed.

FINANCE

BILLING, INVOICING, PAYMENT TYPES

Feeding San Diego provides agencies with order invoices upon order pick-up or delivery. Monthly statements are issued to agencies via email as a courtesy to let the agency know which invoices are outstanding. All invoices must be paid in full within 30 days of delivery date. The only acceptable forms of payment are agency/company checks or money orders unless you pay electronically via Clover. When making a payment, agencies must write the agency account number and invoice number on the front of the check. Cash, credit cards, and personal checks are unacceptable forms of payment.

Feeding San Diego uses Clover for agencies to submit payments online using a credit or debit card. Agencies will receive an email notification from Clover stating their total overdue balance. A hyperlink will be included for agencies to process payment in full. Upon submission, a confirmation page will state payment was received successfully. Additionally, your agency's partnership coordinator will send an email detailing past due charges, notify about the invoice sent from Clover with a link to process payment, and include information about mailing a check.

Questions about payments can be sent to receivables@feedingsandiego.org.

AGENCY EXPRESS (AE3) ASSOCIATED FEES

There will be shared maintenance and delivery fees for any items ordered through Agency Express (AE3). The cost of the product and delivery fee will be shown on the platform.

LATE OR MISSED PAYMENTS

Feeding San Diego requires all agency account balances be paid within 30 days of the invoice date. After 30 days, the following may occur:

- ☐ Agencies with invoices unpaid, past 30 days will receive a reminder email notification
- ☐ Agencies with invoices unpaid, past 60 days will be placed on product hold until the invoice is paid and the account is cleared
- ☐ Being placed on product hold means that an agency cannot access product from Feeding San Diego through online ordering through our Distribution Center or through agency programs Mobile Marketplaces

Continued problems of this nature (e.g. negative account balances, late or missed payments, etc.) may result in loss of program privileges or even termination of partnership, as determined by the Finance Department and Neighborhood Partnerships Manager.

Please keep in mind, Feeding San Diego reserves the right to refuse service to any agency that has repeated late, missed, or bounced payments. It is in our community's best interest for Feeding San Diego and Partner agencies to work together as smoothly as possible, so please communicate any concerns or issues immediately. Feeding San Diego also reserves the right to charge a fee of $25 for any checks returned by the bank for any reason.

GRIEVANCE POLICY AND PROCEDURE

AGENCY TO FEEDING SAN DIEGO GRIEVANCE

If an agency has a complaint or experiences a problem with Feeding San Diego, they may contact the Neighborhood Partnership Manager for details about the grievance process. Every effort will be made to resolve the matter. If unable to resolve the grievance to mutual satisfaction, the Neighborhood Partnership Manager will present the matter to the Chief Strategy Officer.

IN SUCH CASES, THE FOLLOWING OUTCOME MAY RESULT:

- ☐ Feeding San Diego will notify the agency's Executive Director/President/Pastor of the decision
- ☐ All grievances made against Feeding San Diego will be placed on file for a minimum of 3 years

The client may contact the Neighborhood Partnerships Assistant Manager to file a complaint. The partnerships team will then record the complainant's information and contact the agency to gather additional information. The objective and obligation of Feeding San Diego is to ensure that proper procedures are followed, civil rights are not violated, and equitable treatment is afforded to all.

THE GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE WILL BE IMPLEMENTED AS FOLLOWS:

- ☐ After a reasonable deliberation, Feeding San Diego will contact the agency with notification of the complaint and of any information compiled during the Feeding San Diego investigation. Feeding San Diego reserves the right to withhold confidential information from the complainant to the agency.
- ☐ If no wrongdoing on the part of the agency is found, Feeding San Diego will contact the complainant and explain the investigation by Feeding San Diego, as well as the decision.

FEEDING SAN DIEGO STAFF TO AGENCY GRIEVANCE

If a Feeding San Diego staff notices or believes there to be an issue with an agency, Feeding San Diego will follow the "Client to Agency Grievance" procedure listed above to resolve the issue.

AGENCY TO CLIENT GRIEVANCE

If an agency files a grievance against a client, a record of the incident should be kept on-site at the agency for a minimum of 3 years. Feeding San Diego will ask to see this record in the event that the client seeks to file a complaint with Feeding San Diego against the agency.

Feeding San Diego advises completing and retaining an incident form for instances including but not limited to:

- ☐ Physical and/or verbal confrontations
- ☐ Removing someone from the premises
- ☐ Refusing service to a client either temporarily or permanently

FOOD SAFETY

As in any food business, food safety is of paramount importance to food banking. Agencies must comply with all local, state, and federal laws and regulations, including permitting requirements in order to operate food distributions. Feeding San Diego requires at minimum the primary contact at every agency operating a distribution to hold a food handler certification. If the agency is participating in food rescue and/or distributing prepared food, any staff or volunteer that participates in those programs must also be certified.

FOOD SAFETY TRAINING

- ☐ Valid Food Handler's Cards can be completed through an online course and assessment. A list of all San Diego County Department of Environmental Health approved classes can be found here: San Diego County Department of Environmental Health Food Handler. You can also do so through eFood Handlers training program that is approved in SD County: <https://www.cafoodhandlers.com/San-Diego-Food-Handler>
- ☐ All agencies are required to have at minimum the primary contact attend an in-depth food safety training from Feeding San Diego once every two years. Upon completion, the attendee will receive a certification and a copy will also be saved in the agency file
- ☐ All agencies are required to have at least one person who is in charge and present at distributions have a valid Food Handlers certification at all times. It is highly recommended that at least two people have the certification in the case of the first person's absence at your distributions

FOOD RECALL PROCESS

In the rare event that food needs to be recalled from distribution, Feeding San Diego requires agencies to have a process in place to appropriately track and pass along recall information.

THE BELOW LIST IS REQUIRED OF EACH AGENCY:

- ☐ One designated person responsible for recalls, whose contact information is on file with Feeding San Diego
- ☐ Designated person needs to subscribe to emails (see links below) from the FDA and USDA to stay on top of recalls that may apply to them from other organizations or companies (if you are picking up from a grocery store not affiliated with FSD)
- ☐ FDA Recalls, Market Withdrawals, & Safety Alerts
- ☐ USDA Recalls & Public Health Alerts
- ☐ Feeding San Diego will also pass along food recall emails from national sources for food that is not believed to have passed through the distribution center but may have entered agency distribution channels through other means. These notices will be sent on a weekly basis and need to be posted for client visibility if you believe you have received this food from any source. Client visibility may include posting information about the recall at your distribution site or posting on your organization's social media page(s).

- ☐ Required to notify all agencies you redistribute food to in the event of a recall notice. See redistribution section of this handbook for more information

BULK REPACKAGING

If an agency is repackaging bulk food items at their facility (i.e., household sized bags of flour from a large 50-pound bag or individual chicken from a 25-pound case, into smaller packages etc.), you must notify your Partnerships Coordinator before to collect and monitor the following criteria:

- ☐ Have the applicable permit with the County of San Diego Department of Environmental Health (DEH)
- ☐ Have a clean room which is referred to as; “a separate, enclosed room that is dedicated for bulk repacking which is designed to the highest standards of sanitation and prevents as many environmental contaminants as possible. It must be designed so that the interior surfaces are durable, non-absorbent and easily cleanable, built to commercial food service construction standards and meet local health regulations.”
- ☐ Put labels on the repacked materials which meet FDA requirements for the product being repackaged. Please check with the County DEH in order to learn more about these regulations
- ☐ Maintain a permanent record of all food repacked, which should include:
 - A sample of the label from both the bulk product and the repacked food
 - Number of units packed
 - Weight of food repacked
- ☐ Ensure that all packaging is acceptable for food (food grade)

If your organization is interested in bulk repackaging, please obtain your permit with the County of San Diego and then contact your Partnerships Coordinator for additional required paperwork. Repackaging of any kind should not occur before these steps have been completed.

PARTNERSHIP TYPES/MODELS

PANTRY

For smaller households served at one time on a regular basis, it is suggested to open multiple days/hours per week. The following guidelines will need to be followed:

- ☐ Store product in a secure, food safe location, ongoing
- ☐ Provide an intake system (noting name, phone number, household size)
- ☐ Client choice or pre-box distribution model

- ☐ Flexible and/or frequent distribution times
- ☐ A representative on-site that is present during pantry hours

LARGE SCALE DISTRIBUTION

- ☐ Glean produce onsite*
- ☐ Store produce in a food safe and secure location from time of delivery to time of distribution
- ☐ Fixed and more infrequent distribution times (1x/week, monthly, etc.)

Please dispose of pallets and boxes on your own where able- if you need pallets picked up, please contact your Partnership Coordinator. You will also be responsible for disposing of produce that is not safe for consumption.*

- ☐ Any fees assessed are not related to either the cost of the agency's acquisition of the product or the cost of making the product available for consumption and/or distribution

COMBINATION

A distribution model that includes elements of more than one partnership type but upholds the requirements of each type.

DESIGNING A DISTRIBUTION METHOD

- ☐ Client Choice through Pantry or Farmers Market Style
- ☐ Pre-packed boxes given by walk up or drive through style

Both methods have pros and cons and it is up to each agency to decide what ultimately works best for their clients and organization.

Client Choice Method

There are several different types of client choice models so you should use what works best for your space and clients.

1. Balanced Menu Package – Create a “menu” of items that would be a balanced meal from all food groups.
2. Client “shops” from list of available goods (Farmers Market Style)
3. Fixed Menu Plus “Grab Bag”

Four easy steps to making Client Choice work

1. Organize food on pantry shelves by food groups.
2. When client signs in, the worker tells them how many pounds they may get based on family size or any limitations.
3. Clients walk through the pantry alone or a volunteer. Clients walk by the tables choosing and packing their food, etc.
4. Clients can "check-out" and pack their food in a bag or box with the help of a volunteer. The volunteer can also check to see if the client has taken the amount of food that they are allowed based on their family size if needed.

Pre-Packed Method

This method can be easier to manage, however, there are challenges such as food waste. You can help clients by providing recipe ideas especially for more unique items

In addition, the pre-packing method allows you to best utilize minimal space.

We are here to help!

Please contact your partnerships coordinator to discuss ideas on how other agency partners are successfully operating the distribution method you are interested in.

FOOD ACCESS CHANNELS

The following information pertains to the specific channels that Feeding San Diego operates to pass food along to its Partners. All Partner Agency Agreements denote which of these channels they have been approved to access. Access to these channels will be assessed by Feeding San Diego's capacity to provide the services to you. If an agency would like to add an additional channel, please contact your Partnership Coordinator for further information.

PARTNERSHIP BASICS REQUIRED TRAINING

In order to procure food from Feeding San Diego through any channel, the primary contact from the partner must attend a Partnership Basics trainings. There is a video and quiz that are required to be completed as part of training. It is highly recommended that more than just the primary contact completes the trainings. Anytime an agency gets a new primary contact, the new primary contact must complete the orientation. Basic food safety will also be reviewed at this time, ensuring every agency meets the food safety guideline minimums set forth by Feeding San Diego. A refresher course will also be required at every annual monitoring visit.

DELIVERIES FROM FSD DISTRIBUTION CENTER

Feeding San Diego charges, a $0.01 per pound shared maintenance cost per delivery. The fee stays the same for any location within San Diego County. This delivery fee will offset the staff, fuel and vehicle maintenance costs that we incur.

PURCHASED PRODUCT

Feeding San Diego may purchase high-demand, nutritionally dense items. These purchased items may be available to agencies at the purchased cost plus a minimal shared maintenance fee. Feeding San Diego's goal in food sourcing is to always provide you with the highest quality food, at the lowest possible cost.

APPOINTMENTS AND CLOSURES

When Feeding San Diego is closed due to a holiday, it will affect both order pick-ups and deliveries. If your agency usually receives an order on a day that Feeding San Diego is scheduled to be closed, you will not receive an order that day and your Partnerships Coordinator will be reaching out to reschedule your order.

If ordering online through Agency Express 3, please remember to submit all orders by your deadline even with a holiday.

AGENCY EXPRESS

Placing pick-up and Delivery Orders

The pandemic changed the way Feeding San Diego has conducted business the last few years. Now that we are able to offer our Agencies and Members choice with the menu, we are reimplementing the use of Agency Express (AE3), this also means we are reimplementing charging nominal amounts for food as well as charging for delivery on orders.

Feeding San Diego only accepts orders submitted through the Agency Express online ordering system. Through the AE3 system, agencies receive access to a daily-updated inventory list for product available for order. For instructions on placing orders please contact your coordinator.

DELIVERIES THROUGH AGENCY EXPRESS

Please contact your Partnership Coordinator for instructions.

Any discrepancies or damaged items found after receipt must be reported to Feeding San Diego immediately by emailing your Partnerships Coordinator with pictures and a description of the issue.

ADD, REMOVE, CHANGE USERS IN AGENCY EXPRESS

To add, remove, or change authorized AE3 users, agencies must contact their Partnership Coordinators. This must be done in a timely manner for FSD to be able to make the changes before the order is due.

PICK-UP ORDERS

THE FOLLOWING MUST BE DONE FOR A PICK-UP ORDER:

- ☐ All temperature-controlled product (i.e., produce, refrigerated items, frozen items, etc.) must be transported in a food safe manner using passive cooling devices to your facility and put back into proper storage

MOBILE MARKETPLACE

The Agency Mobile Marketplace (MMP) is a program that provides agencies access to produce in their community on a regular basis. Any active agency under a certain household threshold can attend a MMP distribution, but please keep in mind that this program is not intended for agencies planning to serve more than 75 people per distribution. The MMP is ideally set for agencies who are serving under 75 households to attend. Our distribution center staff will make final decisions on the product available, and we will not be able to provide you a list of what is coming beforehand.

The MMP is not designed to serve individuals seeking food assistance, so in the event that someone from the community comes, Feeding San Diego will provide information on nearby distributions. Agencies participating in the MMP will also help direct the individual to their distribution, if in a location that is accessible to the individual.

Feeding San Diego has four MMP distributions each week throughout San Diego County to provide agencies with nutritious produce. Please inquire with your partnerships coordinator for locations, days and times. These are first come, first serve and it is recommended to get there before the starting time.

FEEDING SAN DIEGO RESPONSIBILITY AT MMP

FOOD RESCUE

Feeding San Diego works with local and national grocery chains (in addition to other types of food businesses) to facilitate Food Rescue with qualified Partner agencies. Through our national affiliation with Feeding America, we have national agreements with Walmart, Albertsons, Ralphs, Food 4 Less, Sprouts, and Targets stores in San Diego County, to name a few.

Our donors are paired with one or more local Partner agencies for regular pick-ups. Partner agencies pick up nutritious and fresh foods from all departments of the store including produce, meat, dairy, shelf-stable and bakery items that would otherwise go to waste, free of charge.

Feeding San Diego oversees this program to support comprehensive participation from all donors, ensure the highest standards of food safety, and help agencies integrate donations into their program or distribution. All agencies interested in becoming a Food Rescue Partner must complete a Food Rescue Agreement and return it to their partnerships coordinator for review.

All current agencies approved for food rescue agree to uphold the following program requirements and responsibilities:

AGENCY RESPONSIBILITIES

- ☐ Once the agreement is signed, the Partner will need to complete a Food Rescue orientation training through video and quiz to review requirements for the program and establish an online profile for reporting pounds through the platform MealConnect

The FoodShare program will provide ongoing support to strengthen and expand Feeding San Diego's network of Partner agencies to provide safe and nutritious meals to the thousands of San Diegan's struggling with hunger.

- ☐ Communicate schedule changes to agencies
- ☐ Track poundage of donated items

- ☐ Work with Feeding America, Starbucks, and Penske on any issues regarding product and food safety

REDISTRIBUTION PROCESS

In the event that an agency collects more product than they can handle or safely distribute to their clients, agencies are allowed to redistribute food only to another Feeding San Diego Partner. This is only if you have completed and submitted the Redistribution Agreement form (on Partner Portal or ask your Coordinator) to Feeding San Diego and have been approved to redistribute.

By completing the application, the agency is agreeing to adhere to the following guidelines:

- ☐ The product being sub-distributed is in excess to the normal distribution, needs to be distributed to maintain quality, or be distributed while it is safe for human consumption
- ☐ Product can only be sub-distributed to Feeding San Diego approved agencies that are in good standing
- ☐ Product may only be re-distributed one time
- ☐ All sub-distributions must be tracked accurately by the sub-distributing entity to facilitate trace and recall procedures. This includes having a signed agreement and always filling out the FSD Redistribution Logs
- ☐ No fees can be charged in relation to sub-distributions (e.g., VAP, handling fees, delivery, transfer, referral or any other fees paid to the sub-distributing organization)

RECORD KEEPING AND REPORTING

Record keeping and reporting are essential functions of operating a food distribution with Feeding San Diego. Without accurate reporting, we cannot properly serve the community. Depending on the programs you participate in with Feeding San Diego, various reporting requirements must be followed to remain in good standing.

RECORD KEEPING

All Partner agencies are required to keep records of the following:

- ☐ Feeding San Diego agreements
- ☐ Proof of food safety certifications
- ☐ Feeding San Diego invoices or retail store receipts (for a minimum of one year)
- ☐ Food Safety Temperature Logs (see Appendix A for example template)
- ☐ Pest Control Logs (if doing own in-house inspections) or pest control invoices
- ☐ Number of individual households served monthly for reporting purposes

- Recall notifications and process followed to inform clients (for a minimum of one year)

MONTHLY SURVEY REPORTING

Why this is important:

All partner agencies are required to submit monthly surveys. The information collected through surveys is required for the mutual benefit of Feeding San Diego and partner agencies. This data is useful for the improvement of services as well as to educate donors, policymakers, journalists, and the public about hunger in San Diego County. By demonstrating the need for services, we can more effectively seek and ask for support.

The monthly survey asks for the number of individual households served, operational details of each agency, and feedback on services and product.

The monthly survey will be sent out the first week of the month with the household count being for the previous month. The survey is due no later than the 15th of that month. For example, a survey will be sent out the first week of January and it will require the household numbers served for December. The survey will be due by the 15th of January.

The monthly survey is collected through a Smartsheet form link included in the monthly newsletter as well as sent directly to the agency's primary contact.

If you have problems completing the monthly survey, please contact your Partnership Coordinator prior to the due date.

FOOD RESCUE REPORTING ON MEALCONNECT

Why this is important:

Only partner agencies participating in the food rescue program are required to complete this type of receipt collection. The data provided in Food Rescue receipts serves as a tool for agencies to use within their own organization (applying for grants, showing impact in community, etc.) as well as providing critical information for donors. Recordkeeping is also required by law, as stated in SB1383.

The data is used by donors and Feeding San Diego to identify areas for improvement within their donation program regionally. Feeding San Diego also uses the data to identify where we can improve at the individual donor level. The most important reason for reporting pounds is that it provides a receipt to the donor of their donation and serves to help ensure the donors continue donating in the future.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

All Food Rescue Partner agencies must keep accurate records of pounds donated by donors and report to Feeding San Diego using MealConnect, an online reporting platform. Training for using and reporting via MealConnect is provided during the Food Rescue onboarding process. Pre-recorded training can be found on YouTube and the MealConnect website. Retraining or training for new staff is available by contacting your Partnerships Coordinator.

Food Rescue receipts are due weekly. When entering receipts, pounds must be input for the day the pick-up was completed, not the day you are entering the receipt. Receipts CANNOT be combined at the end of the reporting period. For example, if you made four pick-ups in the reporting period, four individual entries must be made with the corresponding pick-up dates.

Repeated late reporting will result in a removal from the real-time donation opportunities and may warrant an on-site visit from the Partnership and Food Rescue team to support the partner with a plan to be submitting on-time receipts.

OTHER REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Feeding San Diego occasionally makes grants to agency partners to support capacity growth and infrastructure. In the event you are awarded a grant from Feeding San Diego, you will use the grant funds as expressly outlined in the provided grant agreement and you will provide Feeding San Diego with verification (an invoice, receipt, payroll report etc.) that the funds have been spent as agreed. In addition, you will provide photos and/or testimonials of the capacity building equipment/project and its benefits within six (6) months of purchase. In addition, you will be responsive to requests from Feeding San Diego regarding the grant status, impact, and other inquiries necessary to assess the impact of this capacity building grant funding.

Lack of compliance with these requirements and requests will result in an agency hold/suspension of food pick-up/deliveries/food rescue and if not corrected within 30 days partner separation.
