

Teams for Good

Corporate Partners Solving Hunger

Teams for Good is a new and exclusive opportunity to continue your volunteerism and further your impact this holiday season!

November and December volunteer shifts are now being exclusively reserved for corporate and community groups committed to volunteering their time and making a gift to our holiday meal distributions.

By participating in the Teams for Good program, your company will make a profound difference in the lives of San Diegans struggling with hunger and develop a deeper team bond as you join us in giving back to our community. Being a part of Teams for Good is a great opportunity to boost your brand, engage your employees and support our community!

Teams for Good will help make sure families, children and seniors receive the meals they need during this special season. Over the last holiday season, Feeding San Diego donors and volunteers helped provide more than 4 million meals to San Diego.
