People living on low incomes and experiencing hunger face impossible choices,
choosing between healthcare,
transportation, housing,
childcare, and food.

More than 16,300 volunteers
support operations by
gleaning, sorting, packing, rescuing, and distributing food.

We are
closing the loop
on food waste.
When rescued food can't be fed to people, we donate it to local farmers to feed livestock.

Each month, we serve approximately 215,000 households.

We provide food assistance to

kids

families

seniors

students

military

and any other neighbors seeking support.

FEEDING
SAN DIEGO

Nearly 430,000 San Diegans face hunger, including more than 123,000 children.*

Yet, 29% of all food produced in the U.S. goes unsold or uneaten.

Feeding San Diego rescues surplus food before it goes to waste to help feed people, not landfills.

Founded in 2007,
Feeding San Diego is
the only Feeding America partner
in the region.

Our first food distributions were held in response to the devastating wildfires in the county that year.

More than 750
food donors
including:

grocery stores

wholesalers

distributors

retailers

farms

52%
of all food we distribute is fresh produce

90% of all food distributed by Feeding San Diego is rescued.

Each year, we divert 39.7 million pounds
of food from the landfill. This is equivalent to:

over 35,000
metric tons of CO₂ averted

taking over 8,200
cars off the road
for one year

How We're Funded

98%
Private Support
2%
Public Support

Unlike many food banks, our organization is funded primarily by the generosity of the private sector: individuals, corporations, and foundations.
Every $1 donated helps provide two nutritious meals.
